This device is permanently sealed inside a basketball beneath a synthetic/leather covering and is not serviceable or removable without permanent damage to the basketball itself. Additionally, the device is fully encapsulated in thermoplastic polyurethane and removing this encapsulation would destroy the internal circuitry.

Temporary confidentiality for 180 days from public disclosure is important for ShotTracker Inc. from a commercial perspective. It enables the company to complete its development and regulatory efforts prior to introducing the product to the marketplace. Releasing information on the product via the FCC website prior to formal market introduction can be confusing to our customers, and places the company at a competitive disadvantage.

Sincerely,
